

SPRING 2024

All the newest, buzzworthy book releases.

Divine Might by Natalie Haynes

A female-centered look at Olympus and the Furies, focusing on the goddesses whose prowess, passions, jealousies, and desires rival those of their male kin.

Soundtrack of Silence by Matt Hay

An inspiring memoir about a young man who discovered he was going completely deaf just as he found love for the first time. Before that happened, he planned to commit his favorite songs to memory.

The Ascent by Adam Plantinga

When a high security Missouri prison fails and releases violent criminals, a down-on-his luck police officer and the governor's daughter must team up to take on the most dangerous convicts in the state.

The Gardens of Edin by Rosey Lee

When the bonds in their family begin to fray, four Black women fight to preserve their legacy, heal their wounds, and find peace by holding onto each other.

Deep Freeze by Michael Grumley

The accident came quickly: a plunge into a freezing river. When John wakes up beneath blinding hospital lights, he has a strange feeling that there is something they are not telling him. Can he keep himself alive long enough to uncover the truth?

Family Family by Laurie Frankel

The author of This Is How It Always Is returns with a heartwarming and provocative tale about adoptive parenting and what it truly means to be a family.

Click on the book's title to put it on hold.

Mrs. Quinn's Rise to Fame
by Olivia Ford

Foodies will love this big-hearted tale about a woman who, after fifty-nine years of marriage, wants a little something for herself. When she earns a spot on a popular British baking show, Jenny's newfound fame uncovers old secrets.

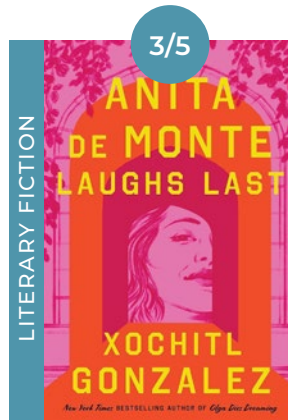

Wandering Stars
by Tommy Orange

From the 1864 Sand Creek Massacre to the Carlisle Indian Industrial School to modern day violence and sorrows, Orange masterfully weaves multi-generational legacies into a story that is both heartbreaking and inspired.

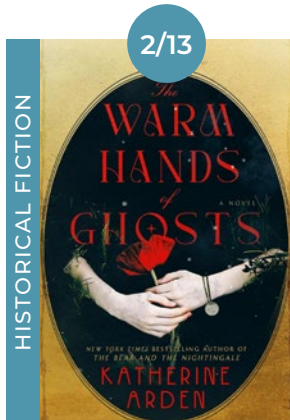

Bride
by Ali Hazelwood

A dangerous alliance between a Vampyre bride and an Alpha Werewolf becomes a love deep enough to sink your teeth into in this new paranormal romance from the NYT bestselling author of The Love Hypothesis.

Anita de Monte Laughs Last
by Xochitl Gonzalez

As Raquel struggles to fit between two worlds, she finds her life mirrored in artist Anita de Monte's, a woman who mysteriously died over a decade before.

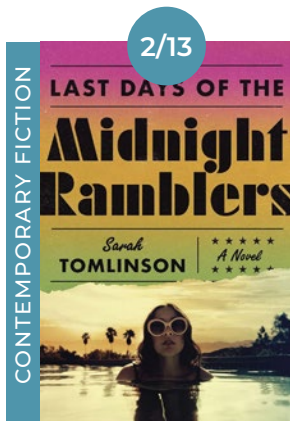

The Warm Hands of Ghosts
by Katherine Arden

January 1918. During the Great War, a combat nurse searches for her brother, believed dead in the trenches despite eerie signs that suggest otherwise, in this hauntingly thought-provoking novel.

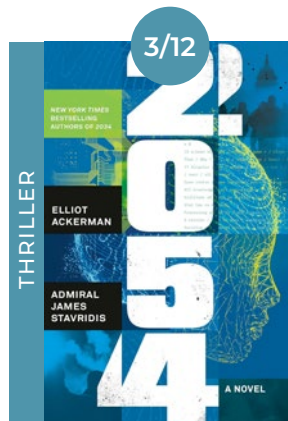

The Great Divide
by Cristina Henriquez

An epic novel of the construction of the Panama Canal, casting light on the unsung people who lived, loved, and labored there.

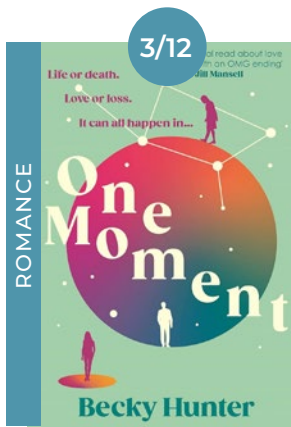

The Last Days of the Midnight Ramblers
by Sarah Tomlinson

A ghostwriter tries to stay separated from the glitzy rock-n-roll world of legendary band members whose memoirs she has been hired to pen. For fans of Daisy Jones and the Six.

2054
by Elliot Ackerman

After a political assassination sends the US into a new kind of civil war, a group of elite actors find themselves hunting down the tech visionary that predicted this fallout.

One Moment by Becky Hunter

After Scarlett's death, she finds herself observing the aftermath as those she left behind struggle to deal with their loss.

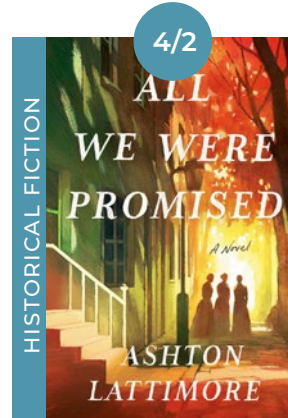

A History of the World in Twelve Shipwrecks by David Gibbins

World renowned maritime archeologist David Gibbins ties together the stories of some of the most significant shipwrecks in time to form a single overarching narrative of world history.

How to Be Old by Lyn Slater

In this paradigm-shifting memoir, Lyn Slater tells her story of how she found fame in her sixties, showing people a unique perspective on what it means to be "old."

All We Were Promised by Ashton Lattimore

Philadelphia, 1837. The paths of three young Black women in pre-Civil War Philadelphia unexpectedly—and dangerously—collide in this debut novel inspired by the explosive history of a divided city.

The Best Way to Bury Your Husband by Alexia Casale

Through an unconventional self-help group, four women come together as they heal from the damage their husbands caused... and try to get away with their murders.

The Murder of Mr. Ma by SJ Rozan

Traditional gong'an crime fiction meets Sherlock Holmes in this imaginative thriller about two unlikely allies racing through the cobbled streets of 1920s London in search of a killer.

How to Solve Your Own Murder by Kristen Perrin

Frances has spent her life trying to prevent her foretold murder only to succumb to her fate sixty years later. Now her great-niece must catch the killer without meeting the same demise.

The Titanic Survivors Book Club by Timothy Schaffert

When the Titanic's newly hired library apprentice misses boarding the ill-fated ship on time, Yorick takes this twist of fate as a sign to follow his lifelong dream of owning a bookshop in Paris.

The Familiar
by Leah Bardugo

Luzia is a lowly kitchen servant until her magical gifts plunge her into a world of holy men and hucksters, and she is caught up in a fight for the Spanish throne.

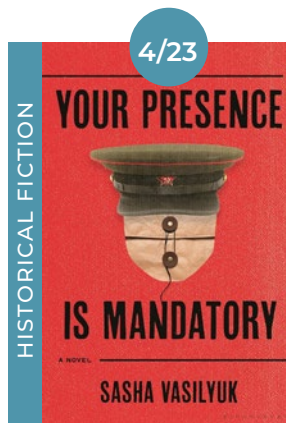

Days of Wonder
by Caroline Leavitt

Ella is forced to give up her baby when she is sent to prison for murdering her boyfriend's high-profile father. After she is released early, Ella relocates to secretly find the daughter she lost and solve the mystery behind the night that changed her life forever.

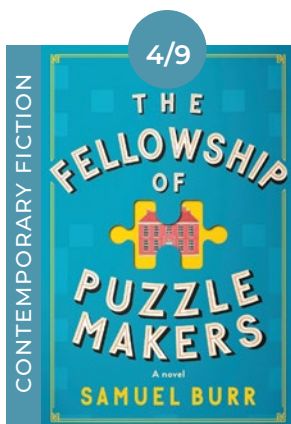

Ghost Station
by SA Barnes

A space exploration crew tries to survive on an abandoned planet but when their pilot is gruesomely murdered, the psychologist sent to help them discovers something far more sinister.

Your Presence is Mandatory
by Sasha Vasilyuk

Ukraine 2007. Yefim Shulman is a World War II veteran with a secret that could land him in the Gulag, and his family who is forced to live in the shadow of his deception.

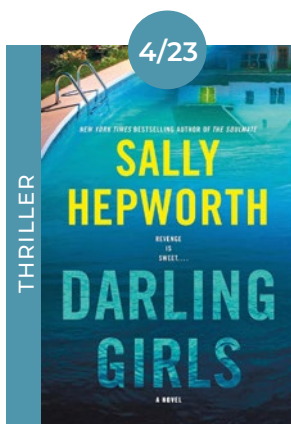

The Fellowship of Puzzle Makers
by Samuel Burr

Abandoned at birth, Clay was raised by a group of eccentric enigmatologists. When his main maternal presence passes away, she leaves a final puzzle to reveal the mystery of Clay's parentage and prepare him for life beyond the commune walls.

The Roads We Follow
by Nicole Deese

Raegan Farrow embarks on a journey to protect her country music legend mother from the anonymous author of a tell-all biography: a journey that takes her on some very unexpected paths.

Darling Girls
by Sally Hepworth

Four fostered sisters were lucky to be rescued by Miss Fairchild, but they learned that the unpredictable Miss Fairchild should never, ever be crossed in this gripping page-turner about murderous family secrets.

Real Americans
by Rachel Khong

When Nick sets out to find his biological father, the search threatens to raise more questions than answers in this powerful story of family, identity, and self-discovery.