

The Daily Record Announces 2022 Maryland's Top 100 Women

Friday, April 1, 2022

Elkton, Md., (April 1, 2022) -

Cecil County Public Library is pleased to announce that The Daily Record selected Morgan Miller, Executive Director, to its 2022 listing of Maryland's Top 100 Women. They have also recognized, fellow Executive Director, Mary Hassler of Harford County Public Library.

Maryland's Top 100 Women was founded in 1996 to recognize outstanding achievements by women demonstrated through professional accomplishments, community leadership and mentoring. More than 1,700 women have been presented with the honor over the years.

"Ms. Miller is an inspirational leader, advocate, colleague and friend. Her impact on the community she grew up in and returned to as a professional, advocate, and mother, is remarkable. She is most deserving of this distinguished award," stated CCPL Trustee Chair Steve Pearson.

"This year's Maryland's Top 100 Women work hard, play hard and create better lives for their teams, their networks and their families. They are inclusive change agents who are not afraid to face adversity and stand up for what they believe," said Suzanne Fischer-Huettner, senior group publisher of The Daily Record. "Their community impact and commitment to mentoring are outstanding. We at The Daily Record are proud to honor them."

Maryland's Top 100 Women will be honored at a reception and awards celebration May 9 at 4:30 p.m. at the University of Maryland Riggs Alumni Center, 7801 Alumni Drive in College Park.
